The river rose a few inches here last night.

Go to Barreda's and see those large, fine sweet Mexican oranges.

Mrs. Wm. Douglas was quite ill last night, but is much better today.

Miss Mary Douglas is again at her post at the ferry, after a short spell of sickness.

The steamship Morgan sailed from Morgan City at daylight this morning with 37 cars freight.

The steamboat Bessie left Rio Grande City on her return trip yesterday morning. She is expected here tomorrow.

Mr. Geo. W. Randall informs us that Mrs. Randall is now in Houston visiting her son. She will probably return at Christmas.

Biela's comet is ticketed for Nov. 27—next Sunday. Astronomers claim that she will come in contact with the earth on that day. Look out for her.

A game of ball between the Brownsville and Fort Brown nines resulted in a victory for the Brownsville boys by one run. The game was a hotly contested one. There will another game played Sunday so we understand.

Mr. G. M. Raphael, one of Brownsville's leading business men, is spending a few days in the city. Mr. Raphael says Brownsville, like most towns, is a little quiet just now but, all things considered, he has no right to complain.—Corpus Christi Caller.

The Corpus Christi Caller pays the following much appreciated compliment to the wife of THE HERALD editor: The editor of the BROWNSVILLE HERALD is confined to his bed with sickness but the little daily goes on just the same under the excellent management of his wife, who is one of the most talented ladies in the state.

Hon. Jas. B. Wells.

Hon. Jas. B. Wells, the S. S. Prentiss of the Rio Grande, and a gentleman who has friends wherever he is known, arrived in the city last night from Brownsville. A large number of friends, who had heard that he was expected to arrive, gathered at the St. James hotel to welcome him, and it was fully fifteen minutes before he got through shaking hands and found time to enter his name on the hotel register. There is not a more popular man in Southwest Texas than Mr. Wells and as a politician—well, they may sometimes get ahead of Jim Wells, but they will certainly have to get up very early in the morning to do so. His visit to Corpus is for the purpose of attending district court and he will remain with us some time.—C. C. Caller.

Fine pine-apple preserves at Barreda & Bro's grocery store, at 20 cents a pound.

Brownsville's Glory.

The season of roses has opened in Brownsville. We say roses because, although other members of the floral family abound here, yet the beautiful queen of flowers reigns supreme. The most beautiful specimens flourish in abundance here, almost every dwelling possessing a share of these treasures of nature. From the most elegant mansion to the humblest jacal we find them shedding their fragrance at this season. Roses which in the City of New York would bring five dollars, and would awaken the envy of a northern florist, bloom in the sweet balmy air of this locality in the greatest perfection and plenty.

Hon. W. H. Crain.

Hon. W. H. Crain surprised his Corpus friends by coming down from Cuero last night with Capt. Jim Thompson, who went up Saturday on a visit to his old home. As he was surrounded by friends until he retired, the Caller reporter was unable to interview Mr. Crain or ascertain how long he will remain with us. It is presumed, however he will remain with us to day if not longer, as his hosts of friends here will be disappointed if they do not get a chance to congratulate him on his recent re-election to congress after his noble fight against such strong opposition.—Corpus Christi Caller.

Legislative Race.

Judge Forto completed making the returns of the elections today and computed the vote of this legislative district, composed of four counties:

The vote was as follows:
For Russell—
Cameron	2762
Hidalgo	755
Starr	1524
Zapata
J. W. Kennedy—
Cameron	2079
Hidalgo	575
Starr	750
Zapata
J. P. Kelsey—
Cameron	780
Hidalgo	136
Starr	895
Zapata	135

Russell and Kennedy having obtained a majority of the votes cast, were duly declared elected.

Matters at Fort Ringgold.

Mayor Louis T. Morris, Third Cavalry, arrived at the post yesterday from Fort Ringgold. He is a member of the examining board now in session for the examination of Captain W. H. McLaughlin, Eighteenth, and Second Lieutenant G. B. Davis, Twenty third Infantry, and so soon as the board has completed its business will take advantage of the leave of absence recently granted him.

Major A. S. B. Keyes, Third Cavalry, having been lately assigned to the command of Fort Ringgold, it is not believed that Major Morris will return to that post upon expiration of his leave. He will then probably be reassigned to duty at Fort Sam Houston.
